

Please add my name to those who strongly support the ability of XM Radio to provide a full range of broadcasting material, including local traffic and weather. It is hard, as a consumer, to phathom what argument the terrestrial broadcasters really have. Are they that afraid of competition? Are they afraid of a service that costs me $10 a month? Tell them to spend their time competing and not complaining.